Guardians of Light VOW SHEET

BELT OF TRUTH

Honesty · Integrity · Alignment with What is Real

Truth is the beginning of strength. When a Guardian chooses honesty, he steps out of hiding and into freedom. Truth steadies his heart, clarifies his choices, and brings his actions into alignment with who he really is. This vow is the promise to walk in what is real — even when it's costly — and to let integrity be the anchor of every decision.

Every medallion represents not just something you did but someone you are becoming.
The Vow Sheet is where that change is written — first in your heart, then on paper.
When you complete your Quest or Path, pause to look back on what changed inside you.
Write your testimony and witness of that change. Then invite your parent or mentor to do the same.
Together, your words seal this medallion in memory and in spirit.

Youth Testimony (The Inner Witness)

This is your chance to write what the experience meant to you.

Prompts you may use:

- What did I learn about God, myself, or others through this Quest / Path?
- When did I feel the Spirit confirm truth?
- What moment showed me that my heart had truly changed?
- What vow do I carry forward because of this medallion?

Parent or Mentor Testimony (The Outer Witness)

For the Father of the Round Table / Nurturer of Light to complete.

Prompts you may use:

- What growth did you see in your child's actions or heart?
- How did you see them choose light when no one was watching?
- What part of this virtue now lives more deeply in them?
- What is your testimony of this virtue?

True conversion is quieter than applause. It is the moment when truth moves from the mind into the marrow (that means deep in your bones)— when what was once practiced becomes part of who you are. That's why we take time to witness it.

When a child's effort turns into understanding, and understanding into devotion, Heaven marks it as holy. This page is that marker — not of perfection, but of transformation.
